InterForm A/S change in ownership

Founder Per Kristensen has sold the majority share of InterForm A/S to CEO Peter Sørensen.

At the age of 76, Per Kristensen has chosen to sell the company he founded just over 30 years ago; "I've been lucky to be able make a living from my hobby! InterForm has given me so much and therefore I want to ensure that the company continues to be successful in the future. "

The sale does not affect daily activities as Per Kristensen continues with the company as a system developer, shareholder and chairman of the board of InterForm A/S.

"This agreement has been met with great satisfaction as it not only ensures the company moving forward, but it does it in such a way to ensure that the values and high standards we have always set are being continued", says Per Kristensen

For customers and partners, the trade will not affect existing relationships as the current organisation will work as before. InterForm A/S will continue to focus on remaining relevant and attractive to customers, partners and employees.

The new owner, Peter Sørensen, is 36 years old and has been employed by InterForm A/S since 2008, the last six years of which has been the CEO and member of the board.

"I see it as a major responsibility and a great honour to drive InterForm A/S further. We want to ensure continuity and stability. It is very crucial to our customers and the reason they have chosen us. These two things are core elements of our products and knowing that I have become the new owner just confirms that these elements are important to us all, "says Peter Sørensen

InterForm A/S has enjoyed impressive expansion over the past six years in terms of new product launches and increased license sales making a positive impact on the evolution of the company. This new agreement aims to ensure continued similar development to the benefit of customers and partners.
